

Contractor Accommodation Services

A Selection of CAS Testimonials Supplied by Interim Managers

Jill Dooney – Process Improvement Consultant

Thanks for being pro-active in finding me accommodation of a reasonable quality at an affordable price. Before I came across CAS, I was thinking of declining an offer of work in London

Howard Tomlin – Interim Health and Social Care Consultant

I was given details of Contractor Accommodation Services by a colleague, who like me travels across the U.K. in connection with work assignments. I was sceptical at first - what could they do that I could not do myself? Let me tell you - they take all the hassle out of finding the right accommodation for my needs - and even better negotiate prices that are really much lower than I was able to source independently. They look after you as well with follow up quality checks, and reminders as to whether you need to extend the stay etc. CAS - wedotherest says it all really, although I now refer to CAS as a 'Consistently Amazing Service'.

Alison McTaggart - Interim HR Business Partner

I have used CAS since I started working as an interim on a full time basis and would have no hesitation in recommending their services which I have found invaluable. Working on contracts away from home means you need to factor in finding accommodation quickly that offers a competitive rate at a good standard in the right location. CAS take away all the hassle factor for you and provide you with options and information so you know what is available. Their follow up service is really good and they ensure your interests are looked after. I have used their services for contracts in Newcastle, Aberdeen and London and recommend them to other contractors.

David Morris – Interim Change & Programme Director

CAS do an excellent job with a minimum of fuss. I have used them for 18+ months working across the UK and they have always delivered, often at very short notice. As a busy interim this service is just what I need and they have invariably come up with the best deal around even when I have requested specific hotels.

Derrick Keating - Interim Consultant

The challenge of finding suitable accommodation 300 miles away from home for an initial 3 month assignment was solved by the team at CAS over a very brief initial phone call. They found me a serviced apartment provider 5 minutes away from the office, and it's proven to be a home away from home, at a great price - in every way better than a hotel. The team at CAS have been great in extending and amending my bookings as my projects have evolved, and I would have no hesitation in recommending them to anyone.

Paul Smith – Interim HR Manager

I have used CAS for nearly 2 years. As an interim manager I find myself in new places at short notice. CAS has always delivered finding me the right place at the right time at the best price. They even found cheap accommodation in London during the Olympics! They are friendly, honest and knowledgeable I would not hesitate to use them again and would certainly recommend CAS.

Ray Wilson – Education Consultant

As an interim senior manager in London, often arriving at short notice, it is really difficult to find the time after the working day to find suitable accommodation, especially when you are unfamiliar with the area. CAS found me excellent accommodation, within budget, in a first class location. They carefully considered the transport links which again is so important when you don't know London that well. Best of all they did this within hours not days. CAS is a fast and friendly service which I would recommend without reservation, to anyone.
